

GOOD HEALTH 8 PAGES TO HELP YOU GET THE MOST OUT OF LIFE

Seven weeks of raw food, digestive and checks on your chakras ... it's the enzymes, colonic irrigation, massage ultimate detox and it costs £2,000

Are you detoxifying?

DETOX has become the buzzword of the Nineties. If you want to feel youthful and feel fantastic, the secret, say health gurus, is to purify yourself from the inside out by riding your body of toxins. But would you be brave enough to endure the demands of the world's toughest detox programme — seven weeks purification that includes a ruthless diet, health supplements and rigorous treatments. IGOOD HEALTH sent Dawn Phoenix, 28, a student from Weymouth, to the Campaign Clinic in North London. SCIENCE EDITOR follows her progress to discover if all the painful purging was worth it.

WEEK ONE

DAWN says: I have heard of this detox programme and despite it sounding like a hard seven-week slog, I made a lasting commitment to my health, because for some time I have felt very tired after eating. I also hope to improve my general well-being.

I have always been interested in natural therapies and I was keen to see just what detoxifying the body can do. This is done via 'Vega Direct' Testing, which measures the energy response in the body using probes attached to different organs. Other techniques include physical and mental tests from the iris of the eye.

I am completely white the Vega machine checks the health of all my internal organs and looks for vitamins and mineral deficiencies. The Vega tests which check — is my body's energy low — are done on my hands.

The results show I am deficient in vitamins, minerals and trace elements.

I have a virus in my abdomen; my immune system is weak, my lymph system and reproductive organs are not working as effectively as they should be.

This does not surprise me, because I have had painful periods for many years. The Vega machine also produces photographs of my eyes to reveal my emotional patterns, weaknesses and strengths.

Treatment in the Vega week includes a 'Vega Direct' test, a 'Vega Direct' test to help build up internal energy. The Vega Direct test is used to help build up energy. The Vega Direct test is used to help build up energy. The Vega Direct test is used to help build up energy.

Hooked up: Dawn undergoes analysis

WEEK TWO

WHEN I arrive at the clinic I discover that I have a virus in my abdomen; my immune system is weak, my lymph system and reproductive organs are not working as effectively as they should be.

This does not surprise me, because I have had painful periods for many years. The Vega machine also produces photographs of my eyes to reveal my emotional patterns, weaknesses and strengths.

Treatment in the Vega week includes a 'Vega Direct' test, a 'Vega Direct' test to help build up internal energy. The Vega Direct test is used to help build up energy. The Vega Direct test is used to help build up energy.

Hooked up: Dawn undergoes analysis

WEEK THREE

I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

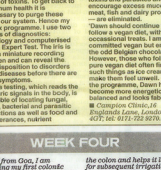

Hooked up: Dawn undergoes analysis

WEEK FOUR

BACK FROM Q1, I am dropping my first colonic irrigation. I discover that I am not as healthy as I thought I was.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Hooked up: Dawn undergoes analysis

WEEK FIVE

I HAVE BEEN FINDING IT really difficult to drop the chemical products and the amount of raw food I am prescribed.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Hooked up: Dawn undergoes analysis

WEEK SIX

A HOMEKID'S train journey — followed by a colonic irrigation — has made the detox what it is working well, but it still makes me feel nauseous.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Hooked up: Dawn undergoes analysis

WEEK SEVEN

FOR SEVEN DAYS, I have to endure two daily treatments, one of which is a colonic irrigation. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.

Some of the herbs are leafy herbs and it is quite an effort to prepare them. I am going to help my periods pain. I am prescribed a batch of raw food. I am told to take twice a day to help my irregular periods.